Financial Review

Priorities

Priorities

- Conserve capital and liquidity
- Streamline the portfolio over time
- Leverage scale in our long term savings businesses
- Drive value creation within and between our South African businesses
- Increase operational efficiency and strengthen governance and risk management

Streamline the portfolio over time

- Need for simplification of the portfolio
- Execution difficult in current environment
- Actions already taken or underway
 - Sale of Australian business
 - Exited Portugal
 - Refocussing business in continental Europe
 - Scale back aspirations in the Far East
- Streamlining is for efficiency and focus, not capital

Long term savings

- Leverage capabilities
- More effective deployment of technology and platform
- Creation of a long term savings division headed by Paul Hanratty
- Potential for value to be unlocked

South Africa

- Over R1bn annual pre-tax savings already delivered
- Tom Boardman and Paul Hanratty tasked with achieving further savings
- New bancassurance targets to be agreed and delivered
- Greater co-operation between OMSA, Nedbank and M&F

Operational efficiency, governance and risk management

- Paul Maddox appointed to drive the change programme
- Cost and performance efficiencies to be achieved
- Integrated capital, risk and financial transformation programme
- Bringing together risk and actuarial functions under Andrew Birrell who is appointed to the Executive Committee
- Embedding risk & governance processes

Priorities

- Conserve capital and liquidity
- Streamline the portfolio over time
- Leverage scale in our long term savings businesses
- Drive value creation within and between our South African businesses
- Increase operational efficiency and strengthen governance and risk management

Summary

Summary

- Capital and liquidity positions strong
- Businesses trading well in difficult markets
- Progress in tightening controls
- Clear on priorities
- The right management team to make the changes
