Summary of rights within the meaning of section 58 of the Companies Act, 71 of 2008:

- A shareholder may, at any time and in accordance with the provisions of section 58 of the Companies Act, appoint any individual (including an individual who is not a shareholder) as a proxy to participate in, speak and vote at a meeting of shareholders on behalf of such shareholder.
• A shareholder may appoint two or more persons concurrently as proxies, and may appoint more than one proxy to exercise voting rights attached to different securities held by the shareholders.
• A proxy may delegate his/her authority to act on behalf of a shareholder to another person, subject to any restriction set out in the instrument appointment such proxy (please refer to item c) in the notes above).
• Irrespective of the form of instrument used to appoint a proxy, the appointment of a proxy is suspended at any time and to the extent that the relevant shareholder chooses to act directly and in person in the exercise of any of such shareholder's rights as a shareholder.
• Any appointment by a shareholder of a proxy is revocable, unless the form of instrument used to appoint such proxy states otherwise.
• If an appointment of a proxy is revocable, a shareholder may revoke the proxy appointment by (i) cancelling it in writing, or making a later inconsistent appointment of a proxy; and (ii) delivering a copy of the revocation instrument to the proxy and to the relevant company.
• A proxy appointed by a shareholder is entitled to exercise, or abstain from exercising, any voting right of such shareholder without direction, except to the extent that the relevant company's memorandum of incorporation, or the instrument appointing the proxy, provides otherwise.
• If the instrument appointing a proxy or proxies has been delivered by a shareholder to the company, then, for so long as that appointment remains in effect, any notice that is required in terms of the Companies Act, or the company's memorandum of incorporation to be delivered to a shareholder must be delivered by such company to:
o the relevant shareholder; or
o the proxy or proxies, if the relevant shareholders has: (i) directed the company to do so, in writing; and (ii) paid any reasonable fee charged by the company for doing so.
